✅ User Story: Distribution List Member Management

As a user,

I want to be able to view, edit, and delete the members of a distribution list, and see in which other lists they are used, so that I can better manage and understand the impact of each modification.

🔍 Viewing Members 🔗

From the distribution list management interface, the user can view the complete list of members currently associated with a specific distribution list.

For each member, the user can also see in which other distribution lists they are used (usage).

📝 Editing a Member 🔗

The user has the ability to edit a member's information (first name, last name).

Once the changes are saved by clicking the "Save" button, the member is updated in the list.

🗑️ Deleting a Member 🔗

After deleting a member, two scenarios may occur, especially if the member is used in other distribution lists:

Case 1: Direct removal via the (–) icon

From the distribution list, the user can click the (–) icon next to a member to delete them.

Case 2: Editing a deleted member

The user can:

- Choose to modify the member's information or not
- Then click "Save"

  In this case, the member is treated as a new member
